Sen. Fulbright Speaks Tonight at High School

Sen. William J. Fulbright brings his tour of Arkansas to Hope tonight at 7:30 in the High School auditorium. Mr. Fulbright was invited to speak here by the Ramsey-Cargile VFW Post No. 4511.

The Senator is expected to talk about 15 minutes after which time a question and answer session will be held. The Senator will endeavor to answer any question from the audience.

John Wilson, local attorney, will serve as moderator.

NOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said Monday the United States and its allies acted too quickly to establish independence for African nations which were not ready for it.

Fulbright said that if the African province of Katanga is allowed to break from the Congo Federation, the Congo would quickly fall under communist control.

In a question and answer period after a speech to the 27th annual convention of the Arkansas Automobile Dealers Association, the senator said that most of the natural resources of the Congo, including copper and uranium, come from the Katanga Province.

"If Katanga breaks off," he added, "there will be no hope for the rest of the Congo to maintain itself."

The auto dealers named Jean Hudsph of Harrison new president of their association. Walter Jennings of Little Rock was elected first vice president and president elect. Other officers named were George Benjamin, executive secretary and A. J. Madison, treasurer. Both are from Little Rock.

Regional vice presidents are John Fletcher Cox of Morrilton, W. R. Weaver of Jonesboro, Harvey Wright of El Dorado and David Roberts of North Little Rock.

James C. Moore, executive vice president of the National Automobile Dealers Association, told the group the industry does not want legislative restrictions or benefits except in dire emergency. He said the industry would oppose any federal government threat to the present franchise or dealership systems.

Survey Starts for New City Directory

Local persons employed by the Moorhead Directory Service are now making business and residential surveys, a spokesman for the company announced.

Each worker will carry a letter of introduction from the Chamber of Commerce and there is no charge made for the listings. This is the second edition for this firm in Hope. Cooperation is asked from each home and business and professional office by the C of C so the directory will be complete and accurate.

Tentative delivery date is set for early 1962.

Weather

Total precipitation for 1961 through Oct. 46.46 inches; for same period last year 42.7 inches.

At first glance it might appear "Tiger" is in cat heaven, but the truth is, he is not allowed to temper with the mice, hamsters, or guinea pigs in the medical laboratory at the Fourth Army Headquarters in San Antonio, Tex., but only to catch the very unusual escapee.

U. S. Plans to Send Chimp Around World

By JOHN BARBOUR
Associated Press Science Writer

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Sometime after dawn Wednesday a young chimpanzee, plucked from the forests of Africa, will enter a mighty rocket for a whirlwind ride through space—three times around the world.

If all goes well, a U.S. astronaut will ride another Atlas rocket into space for another 4½ hour ring around the globe—perhaps after Christmas, perhaps after New Years.

Perhaps half an hour after the Atlas blazes into the sky, the chosen chimpanzee will pass over his native Africa for the first of three times.

The chimp will be performing his space tasks, tripping levers on signal from a control panel, despite the brutal press of acceleration and the confusing sense of weightlessness.

They will make a strange pair as they blast off from this spaceport—a 125-ton rocket and a 40-pound chimpanzee.

Then the Atlas will drop away and the chimp, locked inside a two-ton space capsule, will complete his three orbits, returning to earth by capsule parachute after rockets have slowed his 17,400 m.p.h. pace.

From five original chimps trained for the flight, three finalists were selected. One of these was Ham, the only one with flight experience. It was Ham, wearing a diaper, who rode a Redstone rocket 155 miles into space last January to pave the way for the first U.S. astronauts, Alan B. Shepard Jr. and Virgil I. Grissom.

This Wedding Took Some Doing

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A policeman, a bail bondsman and a judge combined to get actor Ben Gazzara, 31, and actress Jancie Rule, 28, married over the weekend.

Gazzara said he and Miss Rule were married Saturday in San Francisco at the home of Judge Leland Lazarus.

They couldn't find any courts open. A policeman directed them to a bail bondsman, who in turn led them to Judge Lazarus.

Gazzara formerly was wed to actress Louise Ericson and Miss Rule to writer Robert Thom.

Project Pending

POCAHONTAS, Ark. (AP) — Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., said Monday that the proposed Water Valley Dam project hinges on Army Engineers' decision of whether the $55 million project is economically feasible. But Mills said chances for approval are good because the dam could be used for electric power, flood control and recreation. Congress has appropriated $25,000 for a restudy of the project.

Public Strike Is Staged in France

By DAVID M. MASON

PARIS (AP)—Lights flickered out and trains rumbled to a halt throughout much of France today in the worst of a series of one-day public strikes for higher wages.

Few of France's 46 million escaped either minor frustrations or major inconveniences as about 500,000 workers of the government-operated transport, gas and electric industries carried out their protest in work stoppages that disrupted the nation's routine.

The lack of power gave thousands of non-strikers a one-day layoff and dealt city dwellers a hard blow.

The rolling wave of walkouts started at 4 a.m., with a 24-hour nationwide railway strike. A blackout reminiscent of World War II years closed down over the Paris area and its 8½ million residents after electrical workers pulled switches a few hours before dawn.

Thousands of Paris workers stayed home rather than attempt to get to work by what emergency means were available.

Garbage piled up, water pressure trickled off, and long distance telephone service suffered. Radio and television stations carried on, but only battery-powered sets could receive them.

Butcher shops remained closed because of a price dispute with the government and of the power shortage, and only hand-operated pumps were in operation at gas stations.

The government-operated transport and utility companies have rejected employee demands for wage increases, contending they would be inflationary. The workers in turn rejected counteroffers from the government as inadequate.

Will Attempt to Boost GOPs

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Winthrop Rockefeller, Arkansas' Republican National Committeeman, will attempt to boost GOP stock in the state at three meetings slated for early December.

Rockett will meet with local Republicans Dec. 4 at Jonesboro, Dec. 7 at Hot Springs and Dec. 12 at Pine Bluff.

Western Star Admits Guilt

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Western actor Gene Autry, 52, co-owner of the Los Angeles Angels, has pleaded guilty to a drunken driving charge and paid a $1500 fine.

It was disclosed Monday that Autry appeared Friday before Judge Don Redwin. Besides the fine, he was given a 10-day suspended sentence and placed on probation for three years.

The case had been scheduled for trial Monday and Autry's unexpected appearance during the Thanksgiving weekend failed to come to reporters' attention immediately.

U. S. Against Allies in UN Resolution

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States split with its major Western allies Monday night and joined 96 other U.N. members in overwhelming endorsement of an Asian-African resolution creating a 17-member committee to make recommendations for speeding an end to colonialism.

There were no opposing votes. Britain, France, Spain and South Africa abstained. Honduras was absent and Portugal—a chief target of the resolution—was listed as not participating.

The General Assembly rejected a Soviet proposal to have the assembly declare 1962 "the year of the elimination of colonialism." The vote was 19 in favor, 96 opposed and 36 abstentions.

Thus for the second straight year the assembly refused to let the Soviet Union take the leadership away from the newly independent countries of Asia and Africa in their drive against colonialism.

Last year the United States abstained on an Asian-African resolution urging a speedy end to colonialism. Some members of the U.S. delegation made it plain they personally opposed the abstention—cast on orders of the Eisenhower administration then in office.

The new resolution, carrying last year's action a step forward, called on General Assembly President Mong Slim to name the 17-nation committee. It will report back to the 1962 assembly with its suggestions and recommendations.

Rival Asian-African resolutions on another issue of colonialism—the Dutch-Indonesian dispute over control of Dutch-controlled West New Guinea—failed to get the necessary two-thirds majority for assembly adoption.

A 13-nation resolution, sponsored chiefly by the former French colonies in Africa, received a 53-41 vote with nine abstentions. A six-nation resolution supported by India, Bolivia and the United Arab Republic among others received a 41-40 vote with 21 abstentions.

Both resolutions proposed the two countries negotiate their differences over the Pacific island territory that the Netherlands now holds and Indonesia claims.

Three Men to Trial for Rape

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Three Pine Bluff men went on trial today for the alleged rape of a 21-year-old woman and Prosecutor E. W. Brockman Jr., said he would ask the death penalty.

Defendants are Havis B. Holloway, 20; Gerald Dizon, 19, and Havis Terry, 21.

The three have been held without bail since they were arrested. The three have been held without bail since they were arrested last Oct. 10? The night of the alleged offense.

Ten jurors were seated before the regular and special jury panels were exhausted. Court was recessed to permit summoning of additional jurors.

The woman told police she had a date with one of the men last Oct. 10 and that the other two followed them to a secluded spot, where she was attacked.

State Firm Gets 3 in Mississippi

DARDANELLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas Valley Industries, Inc., announced Monday that it has acquired control of three Greenville, Miss., poultry and egg companies through an exchange of stock.

The companies, which will operate as wholly-owned subsidiaries, are Warren Produce Co., Inc.; Bryant Feed Mills, Inc.; and Bryant Transfer of Greenville, Inc.

The three companies have a total of about 150 employees.

Warren Produce operates a poultry processing plant with facilities for processing 150,000 broilers a week. Bryant Mills has capacity for 100 tons of feed a day. Bryant Transfer hauls live chickens to the processing plant and has 11 trucks routes through Mississippi, Arkansas and Louisiana.

Nuclear Test Talks Doomed From the Start

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

GENEVA (AP) — The United States, Britain and the Soviet Union today began another round of talks on a nuclear test ban that appear doomed to failure from the start.

One Western official called the resumption of negotiations "a pure propaganda exercise."

High Western sources said East and West were further away from a treaty for a controlled ban on nuclear testing than at any time since they first began negotiating on Oct. 31, 1958.

The talks were resumed in response to the demand of an overwhelming majority of the U.N. General Assembly. They had been broken off by the Soviet Union's abrupt resumption of nuclear testing last September.

On the eve of the new session, the Soviets published a new treaty draft which, in the view of Western officials, sounded the death knell to any hopes for a treaty at this time.

The Russians in effect ruled out any realistic prospect of an international control and inspection system to prevent secret violations. Without such a system, the West says, any nuclear test ban is unacceptable because there can be no assurance against cheating.

The Soviet draft also sought to prevent the United States from continuing underground nuclear tests, launched after the start of the recent Soviet series—or of matching Soviet advances in nuclear weapons with its own tests in the atmosphere. The United States and Britain were considered certain to reject such an obvious trick intended primarily as a propaganda gesture to fallout-fearful nations in Asia and Africa.

Despite the lack of prospects for progress, both Soviet and Western representatives apparently were prepared to go on talking indefinitely rather than be accused of refusing to negotiate.

"We are dealing with a very fundamental issue of national policy on a matter that affects the entire world, said one high Western official. "We can never refuse to talk about it."

"Maybe, in the course of time, we can work something out. The real problem at present is that they don't trust us and we don't trust them."

The Soviet draft also renewed demands to merge the test ban talks with general disarmament negotiations, and the high West—Continued on Page Two

New C of C Officials Named

Court Ruling May Reopen Va. School

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—A Virginia Supreme Court decision was seen today as the key that might reopen public schools closed in Prince Edward County in 1959 to avert race mixing.

The county's 1,700 Negro children of school age have gone largely without formal education in the two years since, while 1,400 white children have attended private, segregated schools.

The county school board, acting under a piece of "freedom of choice" legislation, declined to appropriate funds for school operation.

However, the Supreme Court, in an opinion outwardly unrelated to the school segregation issue, ruled Monday that the General Assembly is obligated to operate free public schools across the state.

While state officials declined comment on the ruling's implications in the historic Prince Edward case, the chief counsel for the Negro plaintiffs hailed the opinion as "great news."

Samuel W. Tucker, attorney for the plaintiffs said, "The court indicated its support of my chief argument for opening schools—that the county is required to do so by the constitution."

Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. declined comment.

Negro plaintiffs in Prince Edward have petitioned the Virginia Supreme Court to compel the county to appropriate funds for "the operation and maintenance of free public schools."

Tucker said Monday's ruling shows the court has the authority to order the schools reopened.

Super Road Program to Be Extended

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Federal and state cooperation in financing in building the Interstate Highway System has been so good the program probably will be extended after its 1972 completion date.

So says A. E. Johnson of Washington, executive secretary of the American Association of State Highway Officials and a member of the committee which drafted the Interstate System in 1953. He spoke yesterday at the convention of the Southeastern Association of State Highway Officials.

Only a few states are lagging behind in putting up their share of the money, Johnson said. The system will save 3,500 lives a year and will save motorists $2.1 billion annually in operating expenses he added.

Although the system will be only 14 per cent of the nation's total highway mileage, it will carry 20 per cent of the traffic, Johnson said.

Twenty-seven per cent of the 41,000 mile program is now open to traffic and the work is progressing on schedule. He did not give any figures on possible extension of the program.

Living Costs Edge to a New Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs edged up to a new high in October, but spendable earnings and buying power also went to new records, the Labor Department announced today.

The index of consumer prices advanced by one-tenth of one percent to 128.4 per cent of the 1947 average. Higher prices for new cars and consumer services were largely responsible for the increase.

The rise was "so small it can be called almost no change," Commissioner Ewan Clague of the Bureau of Labor Statistics told reporters. The usual September-October rise is greater.

About 930,000 workers will receive pay increases, mostly of a cent an hour, under wage contracts with cost-of-living escalator clauses. All major auto and farm equipment firms are included.

The spendable earnings, or take-home pay, of the average factory worker rose by about $1.80 over the month to $84.32 a week for a worker with three dependents and to $76.50 for a worker without dependents.

Compared with a year ago, spendable earnings were up by $3.70 a week or almost 5 per cent. Because the price index has gone up only 0.9 per cent over the year, the buying power of factory workers' paychecks has gained 4 per cent over the year.

Ruling in Insurance Firm Case

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court said Monday that a plaintiff's attorney in a lawsuit has a right to know what insurance company, if any, is responsible for possible damages against a defendant.

The ruling was made on appeal of a suit in which damages were denied on charges that a fire which started in the defendant's yard destroyed the plaintiff's home.

The attorney for the plaintiff tried unsuccessfully to learn what insurance company, if any, was liable for damages against the defendant.

The Supreme Court ruled that such information should be given the plaintiff's attorney in private, so the jury would not hear.

The ruling was announced by the court in reversing a judgment for the defendant in a $30,000 lawsuit arising between neighbors who live near El Dorado.

E. A. Armstrong filed the suit against W. M. Lloyd, contending that a trash fire on the Lloyd property was allowed to spread and eventually destroyed the Armstrong house.

Circuit Judge Claude E. Love refused to order disclosure to the opposing attorney of any company which might have written fire insurance for Lloyd.

The jury returned a verdict for Lloyd and Armstrong appealed. The case now will go back to Union Circuit Court for a new trial.

JFK Tells Red Editor, Cites Berlin Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy told Izvestia editor Alexei Adzhubei in an interview published today that the root of East-West conflict is the Soviet's efforts "to communize, in a sense, the entire world."

The interview was published today by the Soviet government, paper and made public by the White House.

In it Kennedy told Adzhubei, son-in-law of Premier Khrushchev:

"If the Soviet Union were merely seeking to protect its own national interests, to protect its own national security and would permit countries to live as they wish—to live in peace—then I believe that the problems which now cause so much tension would fade away."

Kennedy said Americans want the Soviet people as well as themselves to be able to live in peace.

"It is this effort to push outward the Communist system, on to country after country, that represents, I think, the great threat to peace," Kennedy said.

"If the Soviet Union looked only to its national interest and to providing a better life for its people under conditions of peace, I think there would be nothing that would disturb the relations between the Soviet Union and the United States."

The lengthy interview, which took place last Saturday at Kennedy's home in Hyannis Port, Mass., was as much dialogue as a question-and-answer session.

To Kennedy's comment on the Soviet's attempt to spread its system around the world, Adzhubei replied, "I cannot agree with you in that part of your answer where you are saying that we are trying to 'communize' the world."

Adzhubei said the Communist party congress last month declared "that we are against any export of the revolution, but we are also against any export of counterrevolution."

He told Kennedy that from the Soviet viewpoint, the United States is interfering in the affairs of many other countries.

Stadium to Buy Back Some Bonds

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Stadium Commission announced today it is ready to buy back about $30,000 worth of the bonds it sold to build War Memorial Stadium.

Ed Keith of Magnolia, the commission chairman, said tenders have been asked and the bonds which are offered at the best price will be bought. The tenders will be received Dec. 5.

The move is a preliminary to refunding the stadium bond issue to exchange interest-bearing notes for ones which do not bear interest.

A 1961 special session act authorized the refunding if 70 per cent of the bondholders agree to it. The commission said it still need a few bond holders to sign such an agreement. If the 70 per cent goal is reached, the refunding will be effected next month, the commission said.

The $30,000 for buying back bonds was raised through a 10 per cent admissions tax put on tickets for all stadium events. Half the tax money is pledged to retire bonds and the other half to making improvements to the stadium.

Too many people reach the age of discretion without having achieved it.

Additional Money for Roads Seen

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., predicted today that Congress soon will provide $950 million annually for construction of primary and secondary roads.

This would be the federal government's share of the cost of such roads, Mills told the Southeastern Association of State Highway Officials. The states would put up a like amount under a 50-50 matching formula.

Mills said that without adequate primary and secondary feeder roads, the ambitious interstate highway program could not be implemented effectively.

"You must concentrate on the interstate system," Mills told the officials. "but remember it is only part of a larger plan. The primary and secondary road program is important."

Another speaker, Rex M. Whitten of Washington, an administrator for the federal Bureau of Public Roads, warned state officials to police their highway programs "or someone else will."

The government will continue to demand integrity in the national highway construction program, he said.

Failure of some state officials to keep their highway programs clean have raised a threat of federal administration of the entire highway construction field, he said.

A. E. Johnson of Washington, executive secretary of the American Association of State Highway Officials told the convention Monday that federal-state co-operation on the interstate program has been so good the program probably will be extended after the currently authorized system is completed in 1972.

Mr. Bowles Gets Another Special Post

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chester Bowles, replaced as the No. 2 man in the State Department, has accepted a diplomatic post especially tailored for him.

He becomes President Kennedy's special representative and adviser on African, Asian and Latin American affairs, with special emphasis on the problems of new and developing nations.

The announcement late Monday from the White House that Bowles had accepted the new duties came after Kennedy called him in for a talk. It still reports that Bowles would quit after being replaced as undersecretary of state in a weekend shakeup of foreign policy command.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said Bowles will report directly to Kennedy and to Secretary of State Dean Rusk on long-range planning and policy and "on the improvement of our operation and representation in the countries involved."

Bowles had indicated he preferred dealing with policy and planning rather than handling the routine day-to-day chores of running the State Department which more or less was his assignment as undersecretary.

"The President is delighted to have Mr. Bowles devoting his full time and attention to these new and greater responsibilities in an area he considers second to none in importance," said Salinger.

Bowles will hold the rank of ambassador but Salinger described the position as a brand new one and not comparable to the roving ambassadorship held by W. Averell Harriman.

Harriman, one of 10 officials to receive new assignments in the biggest personnel change in the Kennedy administration thus far, becomes an assistant secretary of state. George W. Ball, who had been undersecretary of state for economic affairs, replaced Bowles.

No salary for Bowles has been announced but Salinger said it would be "commensurate with the importance of his post." It was reported that Bowles would receive an increase over his $22,500 pay as undersecretary.

Spy Charges Are Said Grotesque

PARIS (AP)—French officials today denied as absurd and grotesque spy charges made in Cairo against a French commercial and cultural mission.

Other sources suggested that President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt is evidently setting the stage for spectacular propaganda trial in the hope of making his people forget the setback to his prestige in Syria.

Four members of the French mission and a woman secretary were arrested in Cairo along with four others and charged with espionage and subversion.

HOURS TO KILL

THE STORY: Julie returns and tries to get in the house, but Margaret will not unlock the door for him.

Chapter XIV

"Very unusual," said Dr. Wimple, looking at her closely and doubtingly. "These people are gentle as a rule—courteous to an extreme. I suppose now and then one of them gets a wine-drinking streak on, but it certainly seems peculiar. You're sure you didn't say anything to him?"

"I gave him some money," said Margaret wearily, "because he demanded it. I did ask him to leave, because it looked as though he wouldn't. Should I have had him to lunch?"

She had already regretted telling Dr. Wimple anything at all, and would not have if his solicitor's inquiry about her palor and her shaking hands had not released her into a burst of pointed tears. He had offered her a sedative, which she refused; he seemed now, in a kind of studious way, to put the blame on her.

"It doesn't matter," she said briefly. "Now, about Hilary..."

Hilary was to have, he wrote busily, acromycin every four hours, around the clock; he would have that sent. Margaret could continue the aspirin and the alcohol sponges, and fluids were important. He would like a report on Monday morning.

"What has she got?" asked Margaret baldly, and Wimple looked at her as though she had crept in to rifle his office files. "A bad throat," he said reproachfully. "Nodules. Goodnight, Mrs. Reversion."

The man would not come back, of course he would not, but after she had given Hilary her first acromycin capsule, coaxingly wrapped up in jam, Margaret inspected the doors and windows again and even made herself descend into the cellar. The entrance door was locked and there wasn't a door in the storage room.

Hilary had had her acromycin at seven and would need it next at 11, so there was no sense in a very early dinner and bed. Margaret made herself a drink and went into the library to look for something to read.

And here, gilt on dark green, was "The Art of Spanish Cooking." Miss Honeyman could not have missed it if she were really looking for it; it stood between a pale-bound set of Jack London and a crimson series of Jane Austen.

Drink in hand, Margaret went to the phone. She informed herself that it was only courtesy to let Miss Honeyman know that the lost was found — who knew, the woman might be starving to death — but she was consciously braced against the sardonic little smile, the haughty eyelids.

"Miss Honeyman?" Margaret Russell. I called to say that I've found your cookbook."

"Have you?" Her own imperative visit notwithstanding, Miss Honeyman appeared to have to search her mind as to what Margaret was talking about. "I'll—let me see, I'll stop by, shall I?"

"Yes. Why don't you?" said Margaret and then, unpremeditatedly (although nothing like this was ever really unpremeditated), "Oh, someone's called me, a Mrs. Withers I think, to ask about Mrs. Foale's relative, the one who came west with her. Apparently she's quite anxious to get in touch with someone in the family."

Did it sound as thin and obviously improvised over the phone as it did to her own ears?

Miss Honeyman sifted this in silence; Margaret had a clear vision of the eyebrows going up, the triangular eyelids lowering. Then the voice in her ear said, "I'm afraid I wouldn't have the slightest idea of where she could locate the young man — Isabel's cousin, that is. I believe he went back East, as I understand he had some blood pressure condition that couldn't tolerate our altitude. In fact," a touch of asperity crept in, "he spent most of his visit here in bed. Not a help, under the circumstances."

Margaret eased her cramped fingers on the receiver and gazed steadily at the blank pantry wall. "Well, thank you, I'll tell this woman if she calls again that he's gone back. I suppose it was the cousin she's after—almost a twin to Mrs. Foale, she said?"

"Oh dear, no," said Elizabeth Honeyman through an invisible, astringent little raspberry smile. "She's quite mistaken if she thinks that. I only caught a glimpse of him once, but he was as fair as Isabel is brunette, with a little blond mustache. I should say he was several years younger. Amusing, isn't it, the physical contrast one sometimes finds in families..."

At last the malice showed through like scraped metal, a raw dry sparkle under the studied tones. Miss Honeyman was neither a fool nor a gossip. Deliberately, she was letting Margaret know that she did not believe the man who had stayed in the house with Mrs. Foale was her cousin.

marks. Kennedy said he did not want to get into a debate. But he asserted that the United States wants every nation to have the right to make a free choice as to its government.

The President noted that in the beginning the great majority of Cubans supported the revolution led by Fidel Castro, but he said Castro has failed to keep his commitments on free elections and progress.

Until Castro permits free and honest elections, Kennedy said, his regime cannot claim to represent the majority.

With reference to Cheddi Jagan, leftist leader of British Guiana, Kennedy said: "Mr. Jagan, on the other hand, who was recently

Two Killed in Wreck at Harrison

HARRISON, Ark. (AP) — Two Sikeston, Mo., men were killed and a 14-year-old boy was injured when their light plane crashed and burned on Holden Mountain 23 miles west of here Monday night.

Killed were the pilot, Jess Hamby, 39, operator of a Sikeston pest control service, and Rudy Ferrell, about 25. Hamby's son, Bob Hamby, was found crawling away from the wreckage toward a 400-foot cliff.

Harold Wheatley, who lived nearby, scaled a 100-foot high cliff and reached the plateau to find the boy crawling toward him. Young Hamby was only a few feet from the edge of the steep cliff.

The boy said he was asleep and awakened just before the plane began hitting the tops of trees.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Taylor of Tulsa, Okla., spent the weekend

Mrs. Vannie Edwards

with Mrs. Hattie Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Jett Williams Jr. and son of Houston, were here for the Hefner-Edwards wedding Friday.

Mrs. Herbert Lewallen has returned home after a visit in Dallas with the R. E. Stevens family.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Daniels of Dallas and Mrs. Summy Gilliam of El Dorado spent Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. Robert LaGrone.

Mr. and Mrs. David Pack and Les of Pine Bluff were the Turkey Day guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Raley.

Mrs. J. D. Barlow spent last Thursday in Little Rock with Mr. and Mrs. Ken McKee and family.

Miss Elizabeth Bridgwell visited the Charles Bridgwells in Morristown, Tenn.

Miss Denny Hefner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Denson Hefner of Hope, became the bride of Vannie Edwards, son of Mrs. Mike Schmecker of Hope and L. J. Edwards of Houston in a ceremony solemnized in the First Methodist Church of Hope on Friday evening, Nov. 24 at 7 o'clock.

The Rev. Rufus Sorrels, pastor, officiated at the double-ring ceremony, which was performed before an arch of southern smilax, flanked on either side by branch candelabra. The choir and chancel rails were entwined with southern smilax. Palm trees formed the background for the setting.

Prior to the ceremony, Luther Hollamon, organist, presented a program of nuptial music. He also accompanied Mrs. James McLarty who sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "Because." As the couple knelt for the nuptial blessing, she sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Candlelighters were Miss Paula Schreck, cousin of the bride of Dallas and Gordon Bell, cousin of the groom of North Little Rock.

Miss Schreck was gownned in a moss green peau de soie. She wore a wristlet of white french carnations.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of Deep Lustric satin with a fitted bodice of Peau d'ange lace, encrusted with sequins and seed pearls. The dress was fastened in the back with tiny satin covered buttons ending in a flat satin bow. The scalloped neckline was outlined in tiny seed pearls and the long fitted sleeves tapered to petal points over the hands. The box pleated satin skirt fell in folds ending in a chape train.

Her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion fell in misty tiers from a pearl encrusted crown. She carried a white Bible covered with a white gardenia and Stephanotis with white satin streamers.

Miss Cynthia Ann Foster served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Jan Hanner, cousin of the bride of Atlanta, Texas, Miss Betty Blackwood of Clarksville, Ark. Miss Lana Thompson and Miss Phala Brown of Hope. The attendants were gownned in identical originals of Moss green peau de soie with fitted bodice and capped sleeves. The skirts fell in soft folds accented by self material roses. Tulle veils held in place with moss green velvet bands, matching satin shoes, and white gloves completed their ensembles. They carried white french carnation nosegays with green leaves and white satin streamers.

L. J. Edwards served his son as best man. Ushers were Jerry Owen, Joe Matt Herndon, Jimmy Lloyd and Ronnie Formby all of Hope.

For her daughter's wedding, the bride's mother chose a gold brocade satin sheath dress with jacket lined in winter green velvet, with which she wore a green hat with gold veil. Her gloves were white and her accessories were gold. Pinned at her shoulder was a white orchid.

The groom's mother wore a natural brocade satin sheath dress with short jacket and matching accessories. Her flower was a white orchid.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the Hope Country Club. Mrs. Lyle Brown and Mrs. Charles Graham invited guests in and presented them to Mrs. Dean Good, sister of the bride, who in turn introduced them to the receiving line.

The wedding table was overlaid with a floor length green taffeta cloth edged with a double ruffle and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, the top of which was adorned with lilies of the valley, white carnations and white machine poms. Silver candelabra holding glowing white tapers flanked the central arrangement.

Mrs. Joe Hefner, sister in law of the bride of Kountz, Texas, Mrs. Jett Williams, aunt of the bride of Houston and Mrs. Homer Fuller, aunt of the bride, served individual cakes embossed with lilies of the valley. Alternating at the punch bowl were Mrs. Hershel Hammer, aunt of the bride of Atlanta, Texas, Mrs. Paul Schreck, cousin of the bride of Dallas and Mrs. Claude Lauterbach, Miss Anne Fuller had charge of the bride's book.

Other members of the house party were Mrs. Newton Fentress, Mrs. George Wright, Mrs. Forney Holt, Mrs. Mike Kelly, Mrs. Hollis Luck, Mrs. Thompson Evans Jr., Misses Janet Roberts, Helen Ramsey, Pam Aslin and Jo Carolyn Lewis all of Hope, and Mrs. Randy Hammer, cousin of the bride of Atlanta.

For travel the bride chose a sheer wool Chanel suit in Cyclamen, with stole. She wore a veiled floral pillbox in matching hues of Cyclamen and her other necessities were black. She pinned a white gardenia at her shoulder.

After a wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Arkadelphia where the groom is a student at Henderson State Teachers' College.

There is growing production and export of nutmeg, cacao, copra and wood products in Dutch New Guinea.

Ideas on Teaching
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Public school teachers should be able to teach controversial subjects, such as communism, without meeting community disfavor, Mrs. Beale Moore, supervisor of elementary education for the state Education Department told the Legislative Council Saturday. She said school boards must develop programs for teaching about communism, and that the state could only help.

Ark. Keeps 9th Spot in Grid Rankings

By TOM DYCARD

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Alabama goes against traditional rival Auburn here Saturday as the nation's No. 1 college football team—but only by a narrow margin.

The Crimson Tide, unbeaten and untied in nine games, sat out an open date last weekend and lost considerable ground in the Associated Press poll to Ohio State's Buckeyes, who walloped Michigan 50-20.

The semifinal poll showed Alabama slipping from 30 first-place votes last week to only 26 this week among the 49 sports writers and sportscasters on the AP panel.

The Buckeyes from the Big Ten, finishing an 8-0-1 season in strong fashion, increased their first-place draw from 6 last week to 21 this week.

Louisiana State is third, Texas fourth, Mississippi fifth and Colorado sixth, each moving up one rung.

Minnesota in third last week, dropped to seventh after losing 23-21 to Wisconsin.

Alabama, counting heavily on its awesome defense, is a strong favorite to dump Auburn and wrap up its first undefeated and untied season in 16 years, and then head into the Sugar Bowl.

The odds-makers figure that Alabama is two touchdowns better than three-beaten Auburn, but Alabama Coach Paul Bryant, whose team has yielded only three touchdowns through nine games, figures Auburn should give his vaunted defense a stern test.

Auburn Coach Ralph Jordan, who has seen his team lose three games by a grand total of four points, says Alabama "is a wonderful football team," but he adds: "We're not conceding anything. We've got a chance to win."

In the poll, Alabama ran up a total of 459 points on the basis of 10 for a first-place vote, 9 for a second-place vote, etc. Ohio State was only seven behind with 452.

The top ten, with first place votes in parentheses:

1. Alabama (26)
2. Ohio State (21)
3. Louisiana State (1)
4. Texas
5. Mississippi (1)
6. Colorado
7. Minnesota
8. Michigan State
9. Arkansas
10. Missouri

10,000 Tickets to Sugar Bowl

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—You'd better hurry if you want a Sugar Bowl ticket. The University of Arkansas' entire allotment is 10,000, and 6,000 of those are in the end zone, ticket manager Mrs. Goldie Hill said Monday.

Individual requests will be limited, Mrs. Hill added. Scholarship contributors will be allowed a maximum of six tickets. High priority individuals will be allowed four tickets. Everybody else will be limited to two.

Tickets are priced at $6 each and each order should include a 50 cents mailing and insurance charge. All orders must be by mail to Ticket Manager, Box 426, University Station, Fayetteville.

Bowl Picture Seems Clear on Each Front

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

A once-blurred bowl picture was in sharp focus today following a rush of acceptances and the elimination of the fledgling National Trophy Bowl, in Washington, D.C.

Only two spots in nine other bowls remained to be filled. One of those, in New York's Gotham Bowl, is expected to be decided today when Auburn indicates whether it will play Utah State Dec. 9 at the Polo Grounds.

The other spot is in Houston's Bluebonnet Bowl, opposite Kansas, which along with Utah State, Miami (Fla) and Penn State accepted postseason bids Monday.

Miami will face Syracuse in Philadelphia's Liberty Bowl on Dec. 16 and Penn State will meet Georgia Tech in the Gator Bowl on Dec. 30.

The National Trophy Bowl, trying for its first game this year, gave up the chase when H. C. Van Arsdale, executive director, told Memphis State that scheduling problems were too much for the sponsors. The Memphis school had hoped to get a spot in the game scheduled for Dec. 30.

Van Arsdale said he had been working on prospects since Sept. 26 but the confused bowl picture of the past week made the staging of the game "all but impossible."

The same fate could still befall the Gotham committee, which is banking on a favorable reply from Auburn, which also had been wooed by the National Trophy Bowl. Auburn winds up its regular season this week against Alabama, the nation's top-ranked team. Alabama will give its final okay to a spot in the Sugar Bowl against Arkansas after the game.

Mississippi and Ohio State have not indicated they will play in Dallas, and Pasadena, respectively. But neither have denied that bids have been offered and that they are favorably inclined.

Another Singer at Ark. Tech

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—A 240-pound freshman tackle at Arkansas State College may be the man who continues the Johnny Cash-Conway Twitty-J. E. Brown tradition of Arkansas success in the popular music field.

Actually, Jack Snipes, whose weight is evenly distributed over a six foot, five inch frame, isn't an Arkansan. But the folks at A-State hope to make him one during the next three years.

Snipes, like Cash, is a guitar picker, singer and song writer. In one year he's made a name for himself both as a football player and an entertainer on the Jonesboro campus.

Snipes started his musical career three years ago, at 16, in his hometown of Jacksonville, Fla., where he appeared with a group known as the Rockets.

With that group and later with The Echoes and The Pyramids, he filled nightclubs and private party engagements and appeared before high school audiences.

Arkansas State students like his music but most favorable comment is on his ability to keep an audience entertained with patter between songs.

Snipes has a recording date coming up in the near future with a New York company. It's his first record and he's excited about the prospect of making it.

But he's taking out insurance in case he can't make it as a professional musician. His major at A-State is physical education and he'll be prepared for a coaching career if he can't move into the big time music world.

Bird Dogs Vie for Honors

BOONEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Six more registered bird dogs take to field today in an effort to qualify for the finals of the Southwestern Field Association championship, which is worth $1,750 to the owners.

A black and white male pointer named Salilla Ace Spades, owned by C. L. Mason of Madison, Ga., was the only qualifier out of Monday's field of six. He flushed two coveys of quail.

Hedgerow, owned by Edwin Brown of Houston, Tex., won the All-Age Stake last week and earned $1,056, but didn't finish on time in Monday's trial and did not qualify for the championship.

The Hurricane, owned by John Dale of Vidalia, La., won the Open Derby Stake last week and Dale got $1,000. He flushed four coveys.

Water Bond Vote

STUTTGART, Ark. (AP)—Humphrey residents will vote Dec. 8 in a special election on a proposed $31,000 water and sewer improvement bond issue. Officials said if the issue is approved the City Council would authorize a $57,000 revenue bond issue to complete financing of the project.

ASTC Coach to Address Bobcats

Frank Koon, head coach of Arkansas State Teachers College in Conway, will be the principal speaker at the Bobcat Banquet to be held this Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Barlow Hotel.

Coach Koon graduated a Henderson graduate, played center for the Iteddies and then moved to the College of the Ozarks where he enjoyed many successful years of coaching. Among his players there was Fletcher Lowery, the present line coach at ASTC, who will also be at the banquet.

Koon then moved to ASTC, where he has had a very successful record, the past four years being 30 wins, 6 losses and 1 tie. In 1959 his team went undefeated and were AIC champions. Among the players on that team were Henry Hawk, who made Little Hope. Tickets for this banquet may be purchased from any member of the Booster Club and member of the public is urged to attend.

Jim Fitcher, the backfield coach of the Hope Bobcats.

This season ASTC finished the season in second place. Along with Coach Koon and Coach Lowery will be the assistant coach Raymond Bright, formerly of Hope. Tickets for this banquet may be purchased from any member of the Booster Club and member of the public is urged to attend.

Blevins Sr. Boys Extend Win Streak

Blevins senior boys basketball team stretched their winning streak to eight straight with a 75 to 56 romp over Locksburg.

Big Harold Smith hit a new season high with 42 points which gives him 209 points in eight games for an average of 26 points per game. James Honeycutt followed with 12 and Gale Carman had nine.

Dooley scored 16, Parrish 12 and Revels 10 for Locksburg.

The Hornets hit 29 field goals out of 56 for 52% and 17 of 23 charity tosses for 61%. Blevins will entertain Guernsey tonight.

When to Fish or Hunt Solunar Tables

By John Alden Knight

The schedule of Solunar period as printed below, has been taken from John Alden Knight's Solunar Tables. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times, if you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

The Major periods are shown in bold face type. These begin at the time shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours thereafter. The minor periods, shown in regular type, are of somewhat shorter duration.
